June 15th, Ron Pete, LRCR General Manager and Connie Waitner, Assistant General Manager along with Board Chairwoman Elaine Porter welcomed the public to the official ground-breaking for the renovation to the resort. Ogema Romanelli and all of Tribal Council joined in to turn the first ‘spade of dirt’ for this exciting news. The renovation is expected to be finished in the Spring of 2016.

Pat Ruiter honored for service

Tribal Council member and Elder Pat Ruiter was honored by the Council, the Ogema and the audience in chambers for her many years on council. At the event, she was presented with an Elders Blanket.

The Little River Band of Ottawa Indians is going to have their Executive Branch organization chart updated to reflect an approach to improving communication and functioning of the government. See more on page 2.
At an all-employee meeting in the Three Fires Conference Center, newly re-elected Ogema Larry Romanelli revealed his new government structure plan.

Over the years, one of the challenges for all of the tribal Ogemak has been the complexity of running a governmental organization with almost 30 different departments or key areas. As a Native Sovereign Nation, Little River is involved in many aspects of both national and other government relations as well as being fully organized to bring many different services to the tribal members.

As the tribe has been organized, all of those departments and programs answer at some point to the Ogema and as the tribe has grown, this has become a very complex undertaking.

Having served two full terms, Ogema Romanelli was determined to address this difficult situation with a new approach. The organizational structure that was announced at the Friday meeting on May 29th groups the various services and departments into four different areas. Each area will have a ‘Lead Facilitator’ who will work with their group to help improve communication both from the group up to the Ogema and from the Ogema down to the groups. These ‘Leads’ were expected to be officially appointed by the early part of June.

Following the meeting, Romanelli said this in an email:

All:
I want to thank everyone for attending the May 29th employee meeting and for sending in the requested informational responses. As usual we received some very good ideas and I am already working to see how we can incorporate them into our way of doing business.

As stated at the meeting there, we have an organizational chart approved by Tribal Council; the purpose of the changes is to ultimately give better service to our membership while easing the stress on our employees. It will hopefully work to provide better communication for our staff as well.

I want to thank everyone for their input on how best to create the four lead positions. We have worked out most of the bugs which will hopefully make the change as smooth as possible. I have asked others to help with the selection process and thank all who participated.

For everyone who submitted their name for consideration I really appreciate you stepping up to offer your assistance. We’ve made our selections and much consideration went into the selection of the four persons. I believe we had many people who could do the job; we gave consideration to having what we believe is a well-rounded group; how much time do the individuals have to devote to the additional duties; availability to meet on regular basis. Please know that people we didn’t select does not mean they were less qualified; it means that all things considered, at this time we needed to put those people in place that we chose.

New Tribal Website

‘The Tribal Government is working to create a new tribal website. As part of that process, we are looking for your input. Here is a link which will take you to a survey. Please follow it and give us your thoughts about our tribal website. https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/LittleRiverWebsite.

We will be reviewing your responses over the next month and considering them as we design our new website. Miigwech, Public Affairs.”

Many generations ago, there lived a man whom The People named Kiwezii. Each day, Kiwezii walked through the village, but spoke to no one. Villagers wondered about this old man who went into the bush each day without talking to anyone. “He is a grumpy old man”, they thought. But, Kiwezii was not a grumpy old man. He was just so saddened since his wife walked on, that he quit talking to people.

Kiwezii moved deep into the bush where he could be alone with his thoughts and memories. There he became good friends with the animals, and he would have long talks with them. This was a time long ago when animals spoke freely with the two legged who knew to listen. For many seasons, Kiwezii and the forest animals shared everything and became very close friends.

One day, Kiwezii decided he would take a walk out of the forest and into the nearby village. As he walked, a group of young boys recognized him as the grumpy old man from the forest. Being young boys, they laughed at the old man and taunted the smallest of them to speak to Kiwezii. Wanting to prove himself to the older boys, the small one walked up behind Kiwezii. But being afraid, he could not bring himself to walk beside the old man. Step by step he inched closer to Kiwezii’s side. “Come walk with me”, Kiwezii said to the boy. His voice was gentle, his eyes were kind, and this eased the boy’s fear of the old man. The little one hurried a step or two and finally walked in stride with Kiwezii. Soon they were talking and laughing together as they walked. The older boys could not believe their eyes!

News spread through the village that Kiwezii was not a grumpy old man. The people saw that he was truly a kind and caring man who had many things to share. They noticed that he especially enjoyed speaking with the Biinoogin and he told them of things that neither their mothers or fathers knew about. Even their Mishomis and Nikomis knew nothing about the stories Kiwezii spoke of. Soon all the children of the village watched for Kiwezii and begged him for more of his stories. Kiwezii too looked forward to these meetings, and he delighted in telling them the stories and legends of days gone by. He knew from these good feelings that this must be what G’Chi Manidoo had planned for him. It was his purpose.

Tribal Council held a great respect for Kiwezii and soon invited him to live in the village. He was given the most precious piece of land they had to offer. It was high on a knoll and overlooked the lodges of the village. On this property grew the sweetest berries and was abundant with medicine plants and wildlife. They built him a fine lodge and made him comfortable.

On one Winter’s day, Kiwezii told all the Biinoogin to sit in a circle. He told them that this would be the last time they would meet, as he was going to walk on soon. But they should not move his lodge or his body once this happens, as he would be back one day. The next day, everyone waited for Kiwezii to come out from his lodge. But he did not come out. It was as he told them. He had walked on.

Seasons passed and his lodge rotted in the weather. Soon all of the plants on the knoll were gone too and the land became barren. The People were sad. They missed the old man and yearned for his tales. They waited for Kiwezii to return as he had promised. Then, after the first snow of the very next winter, the sun started to warm Mother Earth once again. The plants sprung forth and were a luscious green, and The People notice a small twig that had sprung up through the grassy knoll. They watched in amazement as the twig rose up and spread forth mighty branches. It was Kiwezii, and he had come back as the first Oak tree ever to live on Mother Earth. He was now tall and strong.

The people of the village, in memory of their storyteller, held their meetings and told his stories under this tree. Kiwezii, now a mighty oak, gave The People the first Council Tree on Mother Earth.

This story is very similar to “The First Storyteller” as told by Simon Otto.
Tax-Exempt Quotas
Tax-exempt motor fuel monthly limit is 175 gallons per Tribal member.
Tax-exempt cigarette monthly limit is 25 packs per Tribal member, beginning June 1, 2014.

FOR RTM’S PURCHASING PERSONAL USE VEHICLES

Resident Tribal Members must contact the Tax Office for a Tribal Certificate of Exemption before purchasing a vehicle tax-exempt. There are no provisions for receiving a refund after the sale is completed. If you sign a contract that includes Michigan sales or use tax, it will be a taxable purchase. Application forms are available on the Tax Office page of the LRBOI website under “Resident Tribal Member Information”.

TAX LICENSE REQUIRED FOR SALES HELD ON TRIBAL LAND

The Tax and Revenue Administration Ordinance (#05-100-08) at 8.03 says that a tax license is required for any sales on Tribal and trust lands. Individuals or groups that use Tribal facilities, such as the Aki Maadiziwin community center, must obtain the appropriate Tribal Tax License before the event. This also applies to Tribal members selling merchandise at the Little River Casino Resort. The current penalty for failure to obtain a license is $50 per unlicensed seller.

There are two types of tax licenses available. The traditional Tribal Tax License is issued annually and is for businesses operating on a permanent basis throughout the year. The Little River Trading Post is an example of a business that operates under a regular Tribal Tax License.

The Concessionaire’s Tribal Tax License is issued to sellers that will be selling merchandise at a specific event for a limited time. The form for remitting Tribal tax is included on the tax license and the tax is due within 3 business days after the event. This eliminates the need to file regular quarterly Tribal tax returns. An example of someone that operates under a Concessionaire’s Tribal Tax license is an artist or crafter that sells merchandise at the Little River Casino during membership meetings.

If you plan to sell merchandise on Tribal land, or if you are planning an event on Tribal property that involves selling merchandise, contact the Tax Office to obtain a Tribal Tax License.

NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS MUST BE LICENSED TO SELL MERCHANDISE

Nonprofit entities engaged in a retail sales activity of any kind on Tribal and trust lands are required to have a Tribal tax license. The fact that the receipts or profits from such sales may be used for otherwise exempt purposes is not material. The Tribal Tax Ordinance follows Michigan law for retail sales tax. Please refer to MAC Rule 205.140 (5)

If a Tribal entity was selling something to your nonprofit organization, to be used for carrying out the organization’s purpose, you may be able to make a valid claim for exemption. However, sales by a tax-exempt organization are not exempt simply because of the nonprofit status of the organization. For example, when food is provided by a nonprofit organization at an event where an admission fee is required or a donation is made, the food is subject to Tribal tax.

When you register for your Tribal Tax License, the Tax Officer will be able to advise you if any statutory exemption(s) may apply. Therefore it is important to fill out the registration form completely and legibly so you can be contacted if questions arise. The Concessionaire’s Registration Form (for one-time events) can be found online at www.lrboi-nsn.gov. Call the Tax Office if you have questions about your fundraising event at 231-398-6874.
Monarch Rearing project

It has been a while, but the Education Department is planning to re-introduce the Monarch Rearing project. Sometimes in mid-August we will be getting Monarch butterfly caterpillars. We are hoping that we will have a lot of volunteer Monarch foster parents this summer to help us raise tiny baby caterpillars so that they can make a chrysalis and metamorphose into beautiful Monarch butterflies.

Monarch butterflies are one of the most interesting creatures! These beautiful orange and black butterflies take part in one of the most mysterious and amazing migrations known in the animal world. Each year Monarch butterflies who emerge in the northern part of North America take part in migration flying all the way from here to Mexico, where they land by the thousands in specific trees in northern Mexico. They spend the winter in those trees, and in the early spring they begin flying back north. Along the way they stop and lay eggs. They don’t survive to travel further, but their eggs hatch, caterpillars grow, become butterflies, and then those butterflies continue flying north. When those Monarchs return, they lay eggs and then they too die. There are a couple more generations of butterflies during the summer. The last generation, those which emerge in late August, are the generation who undertake this long migration once again. They leave here and fly all the way to Mexico following the same route their great grandparents did the year before. Nobody completely understands how they know how to get back, often to the same trees!

To help scientists understand this migration, they track Monarch butterflies as they migrate, and organizations like Monarch Watch from the University of Kansas help. And Monarch Watch gets help too by recruiting citizen scientists to help. That would be you if you are interested in helping! Here’s what you do. You adopt a baby caterpillar and raise him or her by taking good care of it and feeding it milkweed, the only plant it eats. You take care of your caterpillar until he or she makes a chrysalis, which, if you are really lucky, you get to see happen. Then a few weeks later a butterfly emerges. This is when your scientific help comes into play. You need to determine if your butterfly is a male or a female, weigh it, measure it, and place a tiny mylar tag on its wing. We record the tag number and all information about your butterfly, and then you release it to begin its migration to Mexico. Along the way, if people spot your Monarch and get the number from the tag on its wing, they report it to the University of Kansas, which notifies us. Sometimes we can actually find out where your butterfly went and how long it took! With thousands of tagged Monarchs, scientists are able to do a fairly good job of tracking and mapping this migration!

This is not just a neat project and a fun way to spend time with a cute caterpillar and watch it become a pretty butterfly. Monarch butterfly populations are decreasing dramatically. Because of loss of habitat for the caterpillar’s only food source, milkweed, they have fewer places to lay eggs. Our little part in this big story is to help raise the caterpillars and try to help track their migration, and also to do our best to make sure that there is always milkweed for them to eat. We hope you will help in this project.

If you are interested call Yvonne, Deb or Santana in the Education Department and we can add your name and phone number to the list of caterpillar foster parents. We will have caterpillars here in Manistee, and also in Muskegon- but numbers will be limited. So we need you to give us a call to let us know you would like to raise a caterpillar!

Workshop Notes:

All of the workshops can be attended by anyone, but workshops specifically targeted for children are indicated with italic font. Adults and teenagers are welcomed to observe these workshops too. There are non-italicized workshops in which children are welcomed to attend that are appropriate for all age groups as well. Workshops with an asterisk ( * ) are specifically targeted more for teenagers and / or young adults, but everyone is welcomed to observe and/or participate.
Robert “Bob” Duane Knapp -Ba

Robert Duane Knapp, age 60 of Manistee, passed away on Wednesday May 27, 2015 at home.

He was born on June 25, 1954 in East Grand Rapids, son of the Duane and Judith (Moore) Knapp. Robert graduated from Comstock Park High School in 1972. He recently started and finished his first year of college at Liberty University Online, studying business management.

Robert married Alicia Mae Medacco on February 2, 1996. During the last years of his life, Robert was unable to work due to his disability. But he formerly worked at Little River Casino upon moving to Manistee and then for the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians Maintenance and Construction Company, where he met and became fast friends with his supervisor, Stacy Gibson and remained treasured friends until Bob’s death.

He was at one time an avid bowler and at one point in time considered turning pro. He has an almost perfect game of “299” to his accomplishments and has the ring to prove it. He loved being a coach for football, baseball and basketball and moved up he ranks with his son Jared as he progressed from the midget and pee wee leagues all the way up till the years of high school. He truly loved helping out all athletes and to this day many still have fond memories of the times with Coach Bob and still respect him. He enjoyed and took pride in watching all his children participating in sports and other activities.

Bob also volunteered time to sports camps and to Special Olympics. Special Olympics, especially area 24 was very special to him because of his involvement of his step-daughter as an Olympian. Many of the athletes came to love and respect Bob because he showed them the same in return and he truly valued getting to know each one of them.

What’s going to happen with the Blue Cross Blue Shield Legacy Medigap Plans?

Counselors from the Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program continue to get questions from Medicare beneficiaries concerning the Blue Cross Blue Shield Legacy Medigap plans. BCBSM has been offering the Legacy “A” plan and the more popular “C” plan to Michigan residents for a number of years. The Legacy “C” plan pays for the deductibles and co-pay expenses not covered by Medicare Part A and Part B. The Legacy “C” plan has been attractive to beneficiaries because of the excellent benefits and the lower premium costs as a result of a subsidy that will be ending August of 2016.

In early 2013, the Michigan Legislature passed two bills that would reorganize BCBSM into a mutual insurance company. One of the bills contained language requiring BCBSM to continue with their subsidy of the Legacy Medigap plans through July of 2016. When the bills were being heard in the House Insurance Committee it was reported that there were over 200,000 Michigan Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in these Legacy products. Since then, several thousand more individuals have signed up for one of these popular plans.

So, what’s in store for Legacy policy holders when August 2016 arrives? At this point there are more questions than answers. While we wait on BCBSM to announce the details of what they have planned, we do know one thing. The subsidy will be ending, so Legacy subscribers will pay more in premium costs to keep the same level of coverage. This is true whether a Medigap plan of their choice is with BCBSM or some other insurance company. The costs will vary depending on underwriting and pricing variables used by companies that offer these plans. It has been estimated that beneficiaries can expect an increase in the amount of $50 to $100, or more, in monthly premiums for a typical “C” Medigap plan, once the subsidy ends.

Medicare has a rule that provides a guaranteed issue right that can pertain to subscribers of Medigap plans. The right guarantees, in specific situations, that insurance companies must sell certain Medigap plans to you; they must cover your pre-existing conditions; and they can’t charge you more based on past or present health problems.

BCBSM Legacy plan subscribers can be eligible for this important right based on a specific provision in Medicare rules. The provision reads, “if your Medigap policy coverage ends through no fault of your own”, you are eligible for the right. It would appear that BCBSM would need to terminate their Legacy products in August of 2016 for subscribers to be eligible for this special provision. For those folks who want to continue with a Medigap plan, this right is extremely important. They would be able to purchase a Medigap policy from another company although the premium could be significantly higher.

Those who can’t afford to pay the higher prices for a Medigap plan can consider a Medicare Advantage Plan or simply have only Medicare Part A and B and then be responsible for the associated deductibles and co-pays out of their pocket.

There are still a lot of questions as far as how Legacy policy holders will be impacted in August of 2016. Many of them will be answered once BCBSM announces their plans regarding the Legacy products.

Beneficiaries can obtain local help regarding this topic or any other item associated with Medicare and Medicaid insurance programs by contacting a trained and certified counselor with the Medicare/Medicaid Assistance Program (MMAP). Simply call our toll free number at 800-803-7174 and leave a message. Drug Take Back Program

The Tribal Public Safety Department wanted to remind you that they take back the prescription drugs program year round at the Tribal Police Department offices on M22. Tribal police have a secured location for these drugs and regularly arranges for their disposal.

Bring these drugs into the department. Leaving them in the medicine cabinet or somewhere in the home poses a danger to youngsters and other family members. Properly disposing of these drugs protects our young, our families and our environment.

Commission Openings!

Even though most committee positions have been filled, the tribe continues to seek applications from qualified members interested in serving upon the Commerce, Gaming, Housing, Binojeuk, Enrollment, Health and Natural Resources Commissions.

Ogema Romanelli is building a pool of tribal members who are interested in sitting on a Commission. Members are invited to submit letters of interest along with why they would like to be on the Commissions and what skills or knowledge they bring to the group. Applicants will need to submit a commission application along with your letter of interest. You will need to contact our office to get an application and will need to submit both in order to be considered. Please send the letter and application to the attention of Executive Assistant, Mary Thomas, Office of the Ogema, 2608 Government Center Drive, Manistee, MI 49660.

Tribal Members from Outside the 9 county area are also invited to apply.

The Little River Band of Ottawa Indians Workforce Development Programs are operated through the tribe’s Commerce Department. The Workforce Development Programs links job placement and skill development into a system of lifelong learning and opportunity. Through resources and services created for employers, employees, the unemployed and the underemployed, Tribal Citizens utilizing Workforce Development Program services can take control of their economic future and the security of their families. The Little River Band of Ottawa Indians Workforce Development Programs contributes to the economic security of LRBOI, its’ businesses and communities through a comprehensive program of skill-building and educational components. These components include: 1) Internship Program for the college student designed to provide the Tribal Citizen or Descendant with the opportunity to gain supervised experience in a work setting for which academic credit is earned; 2) Internship Hosting to assist LRBOI Tribal Citizens who are in the Internship component by providing them with a low or no-cost lodging opportunity so they may fulfill their Internship requirements in a safe and friendly environment; 3) Development & Training providing various training and services as needed for LRBOI Tribal Citizens; 4) Career Assistance Voucher for newly hired employees to be used for supplies, tools, clothes, transportation, or anything that reasonably assists the individual in advancing their career; 5) GED/Adult Education Voucher to help cover costs associated with the completion of a high school diploma or GED; 6) Adult (18+ years) and Youth (16-17) Work Experience Employment Programs are designed to provide the Tribal Citizen not in higher education supervised experience in an entry level work setting without having to achieve an academic requirement. Mandatory Job Readiness Training is required to complete the program; 7) Need based Vocational Assistance Award available to the Tribal Citizen attending a post-secondary state or accredited vocational/technical program who has applied for all other available financial aid and shows unmet need; 8) Summer College Book Stipend for Tribal Citizens attending a non-profit accredited college or university may receive assistance in purchasing college textbooks and supplies for Summer Semester only. For additional details about each component and how to qualify, please follow this link: https://www.lrboi-nsn.gov/index.php/membership-services/commerce or contact the Workforce Development Program at LRBOI.

No funding for for-profit colleges

To those tribal members who are looking into colleges and universities with online programs, this is just a reminder that the tribe does not offer any assistance for proprietary schools- colleges and universities which are for-profit. If you are looking at an online program and it is not from a public college or university, make sure that it is a non-profit school. In order to receive funding through the tribe, a school must be accredited and non-profit. If you want to use the Michigan Indian Tuition Waiver (which is a state program, not a tribal one) the school you select must be a Michigan public school and you must be a Michigan resident.

Most for-profit schools are accredited schools, but are most often nationally accredited but not regionally accredited. The regional accreditation is often considered more rigorous in terms of academic requirement. Most other colleges and universities will accept credits transferred from colleges which are nationally and regionally accredited. For the most part, credits earned at for-profit schools are not transferrable to other colleges.

- Not regionally accredited- if accredited, only by national accrediting agencies and not the regional agencies, so credits don’t transfer
- Extremely expensive- rates for getting an associate’s degree are often higher than upper tier universities offering bachelor’s and graduate degrees
- High rates of student loan debt
- Extremely low completion rate- average completion rate of a bachelor’s degree (a four year degree for which average completion time is 6 years) 57% for public colleges, 66% for private non-profit colleges, and 32% for for-profit colleges. Some for-profit schools have as low as 14% completion rate. More than half of college students who pursue a bachelor’s degree at a public or a private non-profit school finish in a 6 year period, while fewer than 1/3 of the students who begin pursuing a bachelor’s degree at a for profit college finish in 6 years.
- Rely on federal financial aid to increase the profits of their shareholders. Student loans are guaranteed by the government. If the student doesn’t finish the degree, the school still keeps the money. The student, graduated or not, is left to pay off the debt. If the student doesn’t pay, he or she is in default and can’t get more federal aid, receives a poor credit rating, and can have wages and taxes garnished. There are no consequences for the school because they have already received the funding.

It is these kinds of issues that prompted Little River Band to stop funding for profit schools. We noticed students were accruing high rates of student loan debt, not being able to continue in programs because of the expense, not being able to transfer hard-earned credits. It was not something that we wanted to do, because at the time we did it, it was much more difficult to find online courses offered by non-profit colleges and universities. But that has changed. There are many options for online distance learning provided by public and private non-profit colleges. If you are a Michigan resident, there are many programs offered by public colleges where you can use the Michigan Indian Tuition Waiver. So when you are looking, focus on public schools as a best option in terms of cost, and private non-profits if they have a program you can’t find in a public college. But remember, there is no funding for for-profit schools. Wikipedia has a fairly good list of for-profit schools, which may help you in making your decision, but it is not an inclusive listing, so if you don’t find the school you are looking into on the list, that does not confirm that it is not a for-profit school, so before you choose, make sure.

Commodity Department

Food Distribution Program (FDPIR) was created by congress in 1977 Food Stamp Act as an alternative to the Food Stamp Program for Indian Reservations. The program offers commodity to low income Native American households. No household may participate in both the Commodity Food Program and Snap Program, but eligible households can switch from one program to the other at the end of each month. Eligibility and participation for FDPIR are based on application and certification requiring tribal status, income and resources qualification, in determining who is eligible for the program. We are federally funded by the USDA and they set the regulations and guidelines for the Commodity Program.

The Commerce Commission and Commerce Department often receive information about investment opportunities throughout the state of Michigan. We review these to determine if they would be in the best interest of the Tribe. When we find that it is not of current interest to the Tribe, we notify the business owners and that’s where it stops.

We have created the “Commerce Corner” in order to be able to present these opportunities to our Tribal citizens, who may be looking for a chance to become an entrepreneur.

Please do not contact the Tribe, it’s departments or the commission in regard to these, contact the seller at their numbers provided. See below for opportunities.

Evelyn and Mick Miller are interested in selling the Easy Wash, laundry mat. They are looking for less than 50K, will train.

They may be reached at 510-9800 & 464-5710
