2017 Jiingtamok a Summer Success

A great time was had by all at the 22nd Annual LRBOI Jiingtamok. A large crowd gathered as the weather was wonderful for a great day of dancing and visiting. Saturday afternoon saw Grand Entry, posting of Flags, Honor songs, competition dancing, as well as inter-tribal. Our out-going Princess, Nadine Underwood crowned newly chosen Princess Riley Diehlman. Miigwech to Nadine for a great year and congratulations to Riley. There were many Vendors with Native American made crafts and Food vendors with delicious foods

PRC/EHAP NEWS

So, if you haven’t heard, Contract Health Services (CHS) has changed to Purchased and Referred Care (PRC). The program remains the same, Indian Health Services believes the name fits better with the services we provide. Hopefully the name change has been getting around. It does take some time to get used to for everyone.

We do have 2 Patient Benefit Coordinators, Roberta Davis and Teresa Koone, available to assist you with applying for Medicaid and any Marketplace insurance (ACA). Please call the Clinic’s main line and you will be transferred to their office. The main line for Health Services is 231-723-8299 or toll free at 1-888-382-8299.

There have been some staffing changes in PRC/EHAP. Janina Sprague has accepted a position at another Tribe, and Juli Duncil has been with PRC/EHAP since early December. Ronda Koon and Mark Plouhar are still here to assist you full-time, as well as our temporary employee, Connie Eno. The alphabet has been split a bit more with the open position, so please be sure to call the main line so you can be directed to the right person.

We ask that you ALWAYS call the main Health line and NOT direct dial PRC/EHAP staff. If your worker had an emergency and was not in the office, you would not know this and possibly not receive a call back in a timely fashion. So please help us to assist you better by NOT direct dialing your PRC/EHAP staff.

When you receive a scheduled date for your appointments, please call your PRC/EHAP staff right away.

DO NOT wait until 48 hours before the scheduled appointment. This does not leave a very big margin in case something goes wrong or we need additional information. Waiting until the last 48 hours could result in a delay of your approval. Thank you for your assistance getting your appointments logged in a timely manner.

If you call AFTER 4:30 PM, you will receive a call back on the NEXT business day. The PRC/EHAP staff need time to make sure all the prescription authorizations and purchase orders are faxed, and all the appointments are logged before we close at 5:00 PM.

If you have any questions or concerns, please call the main line at 231-723-8299 or toll free at 1-888-382-8299.

Commodities Program

Food Distribution Program (FDPIR) was created by congress in 1977 Food Stamp Act as an alternative to the Food Stamp Program for Indian Reservations. The program offers commodity to low income Native American households. No household may participate in both the Commodity Food Program and Snap Program, but eligible households can switch from one program to the other at the end of each month. Eligibility and participation for FDPIR are based on application and certification requiring tribal status, income and resources qualification, in determining who is eligible for the program. We are federally funded by the USDA and they set the regulations and guidelines for the Commodity Program.

USDA Income Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations Monthly Income Standards October 1, 2016 through September 31, 2017

Expanding Gigiigoo'inaan – Our Fish App

A mobile app to promote healthy fish consumption

Great Lakes fish are important to our tribal communities for cultural and nutritional reasons, but information about the safe consumption of fish can be confusing and contradictory. The Gigiigoo'inaan App (Our Fish App) is designed to help community members to make informed and healthy decisions about eating fish. Little River Band of Ottawa Indians is partnering with the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan to test the Gigiigoo'inaan App with community members this summer:

- Native adults (18 and older) are eligible to participate in 1-hour long focus groups to test the Gigiigoo'inaan App
- Participants will be compensated for their time with a $25 gift card
- Focus groups will be organized by the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians and led by the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan

Please contact Allison Smart at (231) 398-2196 or asmart@lrboi-nsn.gov for more information and to sign-up.

This project is a collaboration among Inter-tribal Council of Michigan, Inter-tribal Fisheries and Assessment Program, and the Medical College of Wisconsin. The principal investigator of this research study is Dr. Matthew Dellinger (mdellinger@mcw.edu).

Nanabush and the Rosebushes

--reprinted from the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians Frontier, April 1997

At one time, many years ago, rosebushes did not have any thorns. They had smooth long stems. Even the smallest child could pick them without injury. This story explains how and why rosebushes became covered with thorns.

One day a great big fat rabbit was talking to his animal friends. "I'm hungry," he said. "How about you?"

"Yes, we're hungry too!" the animals shouted. "What should we eat today?"

"Let's try something different," the big fat rabbit said. "I get tired of eating grass and clover all of the time."

"But we've tasted just about everything," replied the animals.

"No, not everything," replied the big fat rabbit. "We've never tried eating rosebushes."

"That's right!" the other animals agreed.

"I wonder if rosebushes taste good," said the bear.

"One way is to find out," replied the rabbit. "Let's find some rosebushes."

So away the animals scampered, looking everywhere for rosebushes.

Suddenly the rabbit shouted excitedly, "I just remembered where there is a big garden full of rosebushes! Follow me!"

The animals ran after their rabbit leader, and were huffing and puffing when they arrived at the rosebush garden. Sweet-smelling pink flowers covered the bushes as far as their eyes could see.

"What part do we eat – the petals or the leaves?" shouted the animals.

"Let's try both," replied the big fat rabbit. They nibbled first on the petals and then they tried the leaves.

"These taste great!" shouted the rabbit. "I like the petals best, but the leaves even taste good!" All the animals agreed, and they nibbled and nibbled and nibbled, until every petal and almost every leaf had disappeared into their big fat tummies.

"I wonder who owns this rosebush garden?" asked the raccoon.

"Who cares," answered the big fat rabbit. "Whoever owns it had better watch out, or we'll eat him too!"

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed the animals. Soon their tummies were full and they agreed to have an afternoon nap. "See you later!" they shouted to each other as they disappeared into the forest.

As the time went by, there were very few rosebushes left on earth. The few rosebushes that had been left were very worried that soon they would be discovered and eaten too.

"What can we do to protect ourselves?" they asked each other. "There is nothing we can do except wait to be eaten," they decided.

But one older rosebush suddenly had an idea. "Nanabush loves flowers. Why don't we try to find him and ask him to help us?"

"Good idea!" cried the other rosebushes.

Now Wind heard the rosebushes talking, and swept up to them. "I am your friend Wind. I am also friendly with Nanabush, for I have helped him many times."

With these words, Wind swept up the bushes and carried them on his back. Now Wind knew that Nanabush, the Spirit, had just returned from a long journey, and he blew these rosebushes toward Nanabush's flower garden.

As they drew near the flower garden, they heard Nanabush shouting, "Who has destroyed my lovely hedge of rosebushes?"

Just then, Wind blew the rosebushes straight to Nanabush's feet.

"The rabbit and some of his friends ate your rosebush hedge, Nanabush," said the rosebushes. "Soon there will be none of us left on earth!"

Nanabush was overjoyed to see the rosebushes and asked, "How did you escape the animals, my friends?"

"We were hidden," replied the rosebushes, "but soon we will be eaten too, unless you can save us from the ugly rabbit and his friends."

"I will help you," replied Nanabush. "I am going to give you thousands of small thorn-like needles to cover your branches and stems. The thorns will not spoil your great beauty, but they will make anyone who tries to eat you wish they hadn't!"

Just then Nanabush spotted the rabbit and his friends running toward them.

"I am going to hide," Nanabush told the rosebushes. "You stand up straight and tall and wait for them to spot you. I promise they won't eat you!"

Nanabush quickly hid in the trees. Suddenly the rabbit and his friends spotted the rosebushes and rushed toward them.

"How did we miss these?" the fat rabbit shouted. "I get the first bite of those delicious petals!"

The big fat rabbit reached the petals first and took a great big bite. He howled in pain, and his nose and mouth looked like a porcupine!

Nanabush and the rosebushes watched the rabbit sink to the ground. They laughed and laughed because the rabbit looked so funny.

"Thank you very much, Nanabush," said the rosebushes. "We will never be afraid of being eaten again."

And to this day wild rosebushes are covered from top to bottom with thorns and prickles.

Summer Harvest Opportunities

During 2000 and 2001, GLIFWC staff interviewed tribal elders regarding non-medicinal uses of plants. With approval from the elders, we are sharing this information as a regular feature in Mazi-na'igan in the form of a harvest calendar.

In this issue, the harvest calendar is devoted to those plants that may be gathered for non-medicinal uses during the upcoming summer months of ode 'iminigiizis, time for picking strawberry moon (June); aabna-niibino-giizis, half way through the summer moon (July); and manoominike-giizis, ricing moon (August).

Training Opportunities Through LRBOI & Commerce/Workforce Development

It is the goal of the Commerce/Workforce Development Program to work in collaboration with each department of Little River Band of Ottawa Indians to increase the productivity of each employee. We will work with any LRBOI department to determine training needs of an individual or a group through different resources available to us.

Job Readiness Training consists of resume and cover letter preparation, preparing for the interview, how to correctly fill out a job application, job searching strategy, and other training applications designed to prepare the individual for work and job retention. To make a one on one appointment, contact David Hawley, Workforce Development Specialist, at 231-398-6842 or dhawley@lrboi-nsn.gov .

Development & Training:

Various training and services as needed for LRBOI Citizens not limited to the following: preemployment drug testing, pre-employment physicals, purchase of bus passes, procurement of drivers record, job interviewing skills, unmet college/university course fees and miscellaneous fees. The maximum amount per applicant that will be paid on their behalf to third party vendors is $300.00 per calendar year. Access to funding in the Development & Training component is limited to 3 times per tribal member within a 5 year period (up to $300.00 per calendar year which is 365 days from date of last service).

We will coordinate LRBOI program services with outside agency services to allow for the maximum benefit to the Tribal Citizen.

1. Applicant must be an enrolled LRBOI Tribal Citizen and at least 18 years of age.
2. Applicant must be enrolled in the LRBOI Workforce Development Program.
3. Funds will be paid directly to third party vendors on behalf of the Tribal Citizen.
4. Funds will only be released with proper documentation: invoices, bill, estimate, etc.
5. By providing a receipt, Tribal Citizen may be reimbursed for fees paid out-of-pocket.
6. Access to funding is limited to three (3) times within a five (5) year period.

Work Experience and Internships

- Adult Work Experience (18+) 320 hours of short-term employment @ $10.00/hour.
- Youth Work Experience (16-17) 320 hours of short-term employment @ $10.00/hour.
- Internship (college students) 240 hours of short-term employment @ $10.00/hour. Academic requirements and open to descendants.

Lynda.com

Online courses FREE to LRBOI employees. 6,500 courses in business, technology and creative skills including government, design, web development, photography, marketing taught by industry experts. We can "seat" 50 people at a time so if there is a training you may be interested in through Lynda.com, please contact David Hawley in Commerce/Workforce Development. Success Story

Utilizing Workforce Development Components

Back in September 2015, a LRBOI Tribal Citizen completed academic requirements for a high school diploma. Once confirmation was received from the academic institution, Workforce Development awarded him with a GED/Adult Education Completion Voucher. In May 2016, the same Tribal Citizen participated and completed a corrections training program through a county sponsored sheriff's department academy. Workforce Development helped him pay for some of his required training equipment through the Development and Training component. In June 2016, the Tribal Citizen was hired as a Corrections Deputy with a county sheriff's department qualifying him for a Career Assistance Voucher through Workforce Development.

We want more Success Stories. Let us know how we can help!

In March 2017, another Tribal Citizen requested help to become trained and certified as a Front End Loader operator and Forklift operator. Workforce Development and the Education Department collaborated to provide the necessary funding for the Tribal Citizen to successfully complete the training and become certified by May 2017. With those certifications, the member is more employable.

Several workers at LRBOI got started as short-term workers through the Adult Work Experience Program. They have since "graduated" to full-time permanent employees after their work experience training through Commerce/Workforce Development.

Water Quality Parameters

Alkalinity

The buffering capacity of water (i.e., reduce a pH change) with the addition of an acid.

Hardness

Measure of cations dissolved in water, primarily calcium and magnesium.

Nitrate & Nitrite

Inorganic nitrogen formed from oxidation of ammonia by bacteria. Important nutrients for plants.

Total Kjeldahl Nitrogen

Concentration of organic nitrogen and ammonia. Common sources include fertilizers and septic leaks.

Total Phosphorus

Often the limiting nutrient in water bodies. Common sources include fertilizers, cleaners, and wastewater.

Turbidity

Indicator used to measure water clarity. Influenced by algal concentrations and suspended sediment.

Temperature

Organisms have water temperature thresholds that must be maintained for survival and reproduction.

Dissolved Oxygen

Amount of oxygen dissolved in water, used by all aquatic organisms. Low levels can be a pollution indicator.

Specific Conductivity

Measure of water's ability to conduct an electrical current. Related to the amount of ions in solution.

Potential Hydrogen Ion Concentration

Metric used to measure how acidic or basic a solution is.

Chloride

Indicator of salinity. Major sources include road salts, salt wells, water softeners.

Chlorophyll a

Indicator of algal biomass. As algal biomass increases over certain thresholds, water quality can decrease.

Fish

Biological indicator of water quality, incorporating diversity, pollution tolerance, and temperature threshold.

Consumer Confidence Report

Little River Band of Ottawa Indians Utility Department 2017

Is my water shed safe?

The Little River Band Utility Department would like to report that last year, as in years past, your tap water met all U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state drinking water health standards. The LRB Utility Department vigilantly safeguards its water supplies and we are proud to report to you that we have not violated a maximum contaminant level. The Source Water Protection Plan has been completed and is available for review the plan will be implemented to protect the areas around our (well house) source water from inadvertent contamination.

Our Laboratory was recertified by the EPA for testing of Total Coli-form / E-coli of which we sample 10 locations per month.

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards.

Our water system is classified as a "Community System" based on the population served which has been established in accordance with the U.S. EPA guidelines which is 8,189 customers served daily.

Do I need to take special precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immune-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/Centers for Disease Control (CDC) guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Water Drinking Hotline (800-426-4791).

Where does my water come from?

The Water Distribution is supplied by two source wells at a depth of 208 and 209 ft. and are located in Aki Madizwiin with a 250,000 gallon spheroid storage tower, adjacent to the Justice Center, on M-22. These wells can supply over 700,000 gallons of water a day! An estimated average daily use is currently 83,000 gallons per day. The distribution system consists of PVC, HDPE and Ductile Iron piping in various sizes. The level of water in the storage tower, which supplies the needed water pressure to your household or business, is controlled by radio telemetry. The Water Storage Tower is monitored by our staff for needed level changes due to seasonal, fire related emergencies and/or maintenance concerns.

Source Water Assessment and its Availability

A source water assessment was completed by the Inter-Tribal Council of Michigan Environmental Services Division, 3601 Mackinaw Trail, Sault Ste. Marie, MI in October of 2002. An updated source water protection plan has been completed by the I.T.C. and the LRB Natural Resources Department as previously mentioned and is available for review. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife. Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming. Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff and residential uses. Organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems. Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities. In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for the public health.

Source Water Protection Tips

Protection of drinking water is everyone's responsibility. You can help protect your community's drinking water source in several ways:

- Eliminate excess use of lawn and garden fertilizers and pesticides - they contain hazardous chemicals that can reach your drinking water source.
- Pick up after your pets.
- If you have your own septic system, properly maintain your system to reduce leaching to water sources or consider connecting to a public water system.

- Dispose of chemicals properly; take used motor oil to a recycling center.
- Volunteer in your community. Find a watershed or wellhead protection organization in your community and volunteer to help. If there are no active groups, consider starting one. Use EPA's Adopt Your Watershed to locate groups in your community, or visit the Watershed Information Network's How to Start a Watershed Team.
- Organize a storm drain stenciling project with your local government or water supplier. Stencil a message next to the street drain reminding people "Dump No Waste - Drains to River" or "Protect Your Water." Produce and distribute a flyer for households to remind residents that storm drains dump directly into your local water body.

Water Conservation Tips

Did you know that the average U.S. household uses approximately 400 gallons of water per day or 100 gallons per person per day? Luckily, there are many low-cost and no-cost ways to conserve water. Small changes can make a big difference - try one today and soon it will become second nature.

- Take short showers - a 5 minute shower uses 4 to 5 gallons of water compared to up to 50 gallons for a bath.
- Shut off water while brushing your teeth, washing your hair and shaving and save up to 500 gallons a month.
- Use a water-efficient showerhead. They are inexpensive, easy to install, and can save you up to 750 gallons a month.
- Run your clothes washer and dishwasher only when they are full. You can save up to 1,000 gallons a month.
- Water plants only when necessary.
- Fix leaky toilets and faucets. Faucet washers are inexpensive and take only a few minutes to replace. To check your toilet for a leak, place a few drops of food coloring in the tank and wait. If it seeps into the toilet bowl without flushing, you have a leak. Fixing it or replacing it with a new, more efficient model can save up to 1,000 gallons a month.
- Adjust sprinklers so only your lawn is watered. Apply water only as fast as the soil can absorb it and during the cooler parts of the day to reduce evaporation.
- Teach your kids about water conservation to ensure a future generation that uses water wisely. Make it a family effort to reduce next month's water bill!
- Visit www.epa.gov/watersense for more information.

Monitoring and Reporting Violations

The Utility Department has tested for various contaminants since the previous CCR from July 1st 2016. Contaminants detected along with their detection level are in this report. Samples tested for other contaminants were “not detected” in your drinking water!

Educational Statement for Lead

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Little River Band PWS is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Major Sources In Drinking Water (LEAD): Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits.

Health Effects (LEAD): Infants and children who drink water containing lead in excess of the action level could experience delays in their physical or mental development. Children could show slight deficits in attention span and learning abilities. Adults who drink this water over many years could develop kidney problems or high blood pressure.

MCL = 15 ppb MCLG = 0 ppb

Major Sources In Drinking Water (COPPER): Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits

Health Effect (COPPER): Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson’s disease should consult their personal doctor.

MCL = 1.3 mg/L MCLG = 0.05 mg/L

Water Quality Data

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of contaminants in water provided by public water systems. The table below lists all of the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the calendar year of this report. Although many more contaminants were tested, only those substances listed below were found in your water. All sources of drinking water contain some naturally occurring contaminants. At low levels, these substances are generally not harmful in our drinking water. Removing all contaminants would be extremely expensive, and in most cases, would not provide increased protection of public health. A few naturally occurring minerals may actually improve the taste of drinking water and have nutritional value at low levels. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done in the calendar year of the report. The EPA or the State requires us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants do not vary significantly from year to year, or the system is not considered vulnerable to this type of contamination. As such, some of our data, though representative, may be more than one year old. In this table you will find terms and abbreviations that might not be familiar to you. To help you better understand these terms, we have provided the definitions below the table.

Contaminants	MCLG or MRDLG	MCL, TT, or MRDL	Detect in Your Water	Range Low	Range High	Sample Date	Violation	Typical Source

Term	Definition
MCLG	MCLG: Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MCL	MCL: Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
TT	TT: Treatment Technique: A required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.
AL	AL: Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
Variances and Exemptions	Variances and Exemptions: State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.
MRDLG	MRDLG: Maximum residual disinfection level goal. The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
MRDL	MRDL: Maximum residual disinfectant level. The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
MNR	MNR: Monitored Not Regulated
MPL	MPL: State Assigned Maximum Permissible Level
