Let me begin by thanking everyone who voted in the General Election. Thank you to those who voted for me as I am always humbled by the votes received. Kchi Miigwetch.

I am always thankful to all who voted and thankful to everyone who decided to put their name in to run for an office of the Tribe in this election.

Specifically, I want to congratulate Tom Guenthardt, Sandra Lewis, Cindy Champagne, Ron Wittenberg, Angela Sherigan and Karen Love.

As we start this new term of office it is my plan to put together a questionnaire for every Tribal Member as to what they see as the good points and the bad points of our Tribe. I would like to know what each member would like to see as goals for the Tribe in the next four years. I’m hoping to get the questionnaire out within the next 90 days and it will include a self-addressed stamped envelope. Once the questionnaires are received back, we will be reviewing with them the Legislative Branch. The plan is to have a report on the findings at the Fall Membership Meeting.

The Muskegon Casino Project is still moving forward. After the final December Hearing held at Fruitport Schools, there was a required comment period that was to be concluded in early January. Due to the Federal Government shutdown, the close of the comment period was extended until the third week in April which has now closed and the comments are being reviewed.

As announced at the Spring Membership Meeting, we are working on an effort to bring a satellite clinic and pharmacy to Muskegon later this year. The plans and efforts are not final and there is still work that needs to be done. We will keep you informed but the effort could be very beneficial.

Another issue that should be seriously looked at is a succession plan for the future of the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians. With enrollment files closed and our population aging, how do we continue existence into the future? The reality of that scenario is not too far off. I know there are several options available to us which I am looking at now and will be sharing with our Tribal Council and hopefully with all Tribal Members. Again, thanks and congratulations and until next time…

The primary awareness need identified as a result of the survey is to dispel the stigma and shame associated with a sexual assault history.

It is ok to share your story! Sharing brings healing and helps others know that they are not alone.

While about 80% of the participants indicated that they are aware that the VSP exists, the polled group was small. The program recently hired an Outreach Specialist who is working to make our nine counties more aware that help for domestic violence/sexual assault victims is available.

A VSP Facebook page is now active, and a program specific webpage is slated to be in place before the end of the year. You can help bring awareness to the VSP by liking and sharing the Facebook page – simply search for LRBOI Victim Services Program or @LRBOIVictimServicesProgram in your Facebook search bar.

Why not like and share VSP’s page right now as you never know who of your friends and family are seeking help from an abusive relationship! Remember, most people don’t report their abuse!

The VSP staff can be reached through the Facebook page or by calling 888-723-8288. Victim services are available in all of our nine-county area.

Safety Training Day

On May 3, 2019, the Tribal Emergency Response Team (TERT) held its first Safety Training Day. The day was comprised of three different blocks of training for government employees. The blocks consisted of Citizens Response to Active Shooter Events (CRASE), Fire Extinguisher/Intro to CPR/AED and Bomb Threat (What to do)/911 (Effective Response). The trainings were put together through a collaboration of the LRBOI TERT team and the Lead Staff.

The goal of these trainings were to provide information and skills that will be useful during emergency situations. The TERT team identified a list of trainings that it could offer government employees. The trainings are the foundations for updating and revising the Emergency Action Plans (EAP) for each of the buildings. The EAPs consist of pre-established plans and protocols for employees to follow during a number of disaster related events. Updating the specific plans for each of the government buildings is the primary focus of TERT.

Safety Training Day was a success. A lot of information was communicated to the staff. The staff was actively engaged with questions or shared their personal stories related to each of the topics. The TERT team has received many positive responses so far. The TERT team hopes to carry this momentum into future trainings like Naloxone, Stop the Bleed, Fire Safety, Inclement Weather, among others.

This training could not be done without the help and assistance from many people. First thank you to the entire TERT team for coordinating and facilitating Safety Training Day; the Lead Staff for allowing this training to consume one of their staff meetings and the lunch they provided. The Ogema for his continued support of this program. Tribal Council for allowing us to utilize the Lodge and equipment. A huge thank you and much appreciation goes to LRCR General Manager Andrew Gentile and his staff for allowing casino personnel to assist with Safety Training day. Thank you to the instructors, Jim Henderson (Risk Manager/LRCR) and David Rodriguez (Officer/LRDPS), who provided excellent material during their classes. Thanks to George LeVasseur and the IT staff for getting the technology in place for the trainings. Thank you to Jeff Simpkins and Venus Torres for handling the schedules and certificates. A special thank you to the TERT members who helped out prior to, during and after the training to ensure its success. Last but not least, many thanks to the government employees for their participation.

LRCR Celebrates 20th Anniversary!
The month of July will be full of festivities as Little River Casino Resort commemorates its 20th Anniversary. Resort guests and team members will enjoy special events sponsored by LRCR to celebrate this momentous occasion.

Little River Casino Resort officially opened for business on July 21, 1999. The building that now houses the Next Generation Learning Center was packed to capacity with many eager guests waiting in line to experience the fun and excitement. Connie Waitner, Assistant General Manager at LRCR, remembers the day. “It was raining so we had tents set up outside,” she says. “We served guests hors d’oeuvres and beverages while they waited.”

Waitner has been involved with the Tribe and Resort since their inception. She feels blessed to be a part of both. “We started out so small, with big dreams,” she smiles. “I don’t think we ever thought our dreams would get this big!” Barry McGrady, LRCR Director of Gaming and Marketing, describes the Resort as a true destination get-away. “The property has become a destination Resort, an escape from the daily routine,” he states. “We are a home away from home in a beautiful setting.”

McGrady and Marketing Manager Joanne Green are excited about the gaming promotions lined up for guests in July. “There is a special 20th Anniversary Giveaway, a Cash Cube, and Hot Seats,” Green explains. “What I am most excited about is the Party Like it’s 1999 dance party!” The Purple Experience, a Prince tribute act, and DJ Rhet, cap off the 20th Anniversary celebrations on Saturday, July 27th in the Resort Event Center.

Resort team members will share in the celebrations as well. “We have over 40 team members that have been with us since 1999,” Lynn Saunders, LRCR Director of Human Resources explains. “They will each receive a 20th Anniversary jacket for their dedication and commitment.” The annual LRCR Team Member picnic will be held at the Resort on July 30 and have an Anniversary celebration atmosphere.

Waitner notes that the LRCR team members are vital to the Resort’s success. “We are fortunate to have our team,” she states. “They are good, caring people. We are the best because our team members are the best.”

Heartfelt Outreach

Little River Casino Resort’s Compliance Department sponsored a community outreach class to inform area students of the importance of caring for their physical well-being and learning to lead safe lives.

LRCR’s Risk Manager, Jim Henderson, believes that safety begins with each individual and ensuring physical well-being is essential to leading a safe life. “Learning how our bodies are constructed leads to an understanding of how to care for them,” Jim explains. “Taking care of ourselves is the first step in safety.”

For years, Henderson has offered various classes at local schools as part of risk & safety instruction, as well as community outreach. “Building partnerships within the community is important for everyone,” Henderson explains. When the opportunity to share knowledge with students at Manistee Catholic Central High School presented itself, LRCR’s Compliance Department was all in.

On May 7, Henderson visited the science class of Jacob Charette. Students were studying how the human heart and lungs function and Henderson provided an in-depth dissection class to aid in that understanding.

“I took a pig heart to class!” Henderson smiles. “The hands-on learning puts textbook instruction into context and enriches the experience.” He explained to students how the heart functions, its various components and the importance of taking good care of it. Students asked many questions and learned how a well-functioning heart supports the entire body.

For questions about trainings and partnerships, contact Henderson at jhenderson@lcr.com

“Standing Rock: Photographs of an Indigenous Movement”

“Standing Rock: Photographs of an Indigenous Movement” is a traveling exhibition that contains photographs and an accompanying narrative of the largest American Indian news event involving Native Americans in this century to date.

The exhibition is a culmination of several months of coverage by Native News Online of the 2016-2017 Standing Rock resistance to the Dakota Access pipeline. Standing Rock became synonymous with the largest public gathering of American Indians in over a century. During the Standing Rock resistance, Native News Online published over 100 articles about the events at Standing Rock. Throughout this period, Native News Online took over 1,600 high-resolution photographs at Standing Rock, Washington, D.C. and local protests in Michigan.

Understanding the importance of preserving the monumental period in contemporary American Indian history, the Kutshce Office of Local History has teamed with Native News Online to develop the “Standing Rock: Photographs of an Indigenous Movement” exhibition that include 22 boards that contain 52 photographs with accompanying text.

Additionally, the exhibition contains Native News Online photographs of the American Indian fight in Michigan to shutdown the Enbridge Line 5 that is buried below the Straits of Mackinac. The oil pipeline has outlived its life expectancy by several years.

The intention was to create an exhibition of photographs that capture the essence of the Standing Rock resistance so that viewers may gain cultural exchange and come to understand the importance of American Indian issues in the context of social justice.

When visiting the exhibition, please allow yourself time to read the narrative that goes with the photographs.
